Start computing right out of the box with PCM custom configuration services so you can start enjoying your Mac sooner.

Apple ships computers with a standard load of the OS X operating system and many applications. However, your organization likely needs additional applications, to have the computer enrolled in a management suite, and possibly even a customized OS image installed. PCM has three configuration centers across the country where we can pull stock from our warehouse, load your custom configuration, enroll the computer into your management suite, package it with any accessories (dongles, bags, input devices, etc), and ship the full system to your distribution point or directly to the end user.

Software deployment options

- Enroll your Macs in your management suite
- Deploy a custom image from our deployment servers
- Install applications and files
- Bind to Active Directory
- Host a distribution point for your deployment suite and use that for your clients

- We can also help you develop your custom content to meet your environmental and policy needs.

Hardware deployment options

- Pair bluetooth keyboards and mice
- Extra power supplies for portable users
- Thunderbolt to ethernet adapter
- Thunderbolt to DVI or VGA adapter
- Thunderbolt or USB hubs
- A carrying case or bag
- Additional memory or larger hard drives available on select systems

Shipping and deployment options

- The systems and all additional accessories can be shipped to a central location for traditional distribution
- The devices and accessories can be shipped individually to the end user as they are fully configured and ready to go.
