Lay the foundation for your Apple iOS device deployment

Businesses today are operating at fevered paces and working from ever expanding boundaries. When clients, partners, and vendors are spread out across the globe, your team can't be tied down to a traditional nine-to-five schedule. They need the tools to tackle projects at anytime and from anywhere. They need mobile devices.

Even though mobile devices make it easier for on-the-go professionals to stay on top of their work, they add new complexities and challenges to the IT staff who have to support the new mobile infrastructure. Fortunately, Apple devices — the iPad®, iPhone®, and iPod touch® — use the iOS operating system, which has enterprise-grade tools built in, allowing you to manage, update, and secure a fleet of devices from a single server console.

Apple's Configurator and Profile Manager will allow you to prepare new devices and control deployed devices to give your employees access to resources and enforce your company's security policies.

With the help of our expert Services Team, we can tear down the barriers standing between you and a successful Apple mobile device deployment. Our complete iOS MDM Launch Kit gives you all the infrastructure you need to start harnessing and benefiting from the powerful features of iOS mobile device.
